

New Culture Northwest Schedule

Fall Camp 2018

Day	Time	NCNW tent
Thursday	3:00-5:00	Registration and Tent Set up
	6:30-7:30	Dinner at Potlatch
	8-10	Camp Welcome & Games
Friday	7:30-8:30	Breakfast at Potlatch
	8:45-9:45	Gender Circles
	10:00-11:20	Forum
	11:30-1:00	Open Slot
	1:00-2:00	Lunch at Potlatch
	2:30-4:00
	4:30-6:00	New Culture in Action discussion circle
	6:00-7:00	Dinner at Potlatch
	7:30-9:30	Fire Circle Ceremony at the Swamp with WCCC
Saturday	7:30-8:30	Breakfast at Potlatch
	8:45-9:45	Gender Circles
	10:00-11:20	Forum
	11:30-1:00	Caring for our own, Elders and Children in Community
	1:00-2:00	Lunch at Potlatch
	2:30-4:00	Possibility Management Paul
	4:30-6:00	Dismantling Shame in Sexuality with Anette

	6:00-7:00	Dinner at Potlatch
	7:30-9:00
	9:00-10:30	Dance and Fire Performance
Sunday	7:30-8:30	Breakfast at Potlatch
	8:45-9:45	Gender Circles
	10:00-11:00	Short Forum
	11:00-12:30	Join WCCC for collective liberation
	12:30-1:30	Lunch at Potlatch
	2:30-3:30	Joining for Closing Circle
	3:30-5:00	Whiz Bang Clean up and pack out

Introduction to Possibility Management:

This workshop is designed to answer participants' questions around what Possibility Management is and the insights it provides.

Possibility Management:

- 1) empowers people and helps expand their way of thinking and living;
- 2) gives people powerful tools to deal constructively with so-called "drama," transforming emotions from something scary or annoying that they want to avoid, to something they can use to have more clarity, better relationships, more intimacy, more satisfaction, and beautiful connections in their life;
- 3) helps people get unstuck in the areas of their inner mental struggles, their love relationships, their work environment, their "fit" in society, their relationship with the world, etc.;
- 4) builds bridges between modern culture, which limits humanity's potential, and the Next Culture, which invites us to help create a world that is sustainable and sane.

This introduction will also include some time for a few attendees to bring up some of their own personal issues and see how Possibility Management can help them transform these issues.

Dismantling Shame in Sexuality

(or whatever you are calling it)

Most of us have inherited shame that blocks us from our true purpose, that stifles our creativity, and that makes us afraid to be different. Dismantling shame in the area of sexuality supports people to be brave, to speak their desires, and to achieve greater intimacy in their relationships.

This is an open conversation taking place in a powerfully held space where people can share and be seen with compassion as they explore the shame they have in the area of sexuality. The idea is simple, but we have found the results to be very powerful. Please join us.

About the presenters:

Anette Schuster

As a trainer, I serve people by helping weave connections and encourage people to engage in personal growth. With the power of heart and experience, I create safe and respectful spaces where people can authentically encounter their own lives.

Paul Rogers

Since I was young the world of competition and win/lose has not made sense to me. Over time my life has become more and more focused on creating a different kind of world, a world based on creative collaboration; a world in which our feelings are honored and valued. When I found Possibility Management, I was thrilled to have a framework and the tools to do this and to bring people fully into their own power and clarity. I love this work and the astonishing insights it gives, but I consider the quality of connection and caring I have for people to be as important as any tools I use.

